Pre-Christmas Services AT Memorial Methodst

The Chapel Choir and memebrs of the Youth Division of the Memorial Methodist Church will present the first of three special Pre-Christmas Sunday evening services on Dec. 7, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. The choir, under the direction of Miss Harriett Holley, with Miss Peggy Godsey, organist, will sing special selections and sixteen of the members of the Youth Division will represent the Sixteen Old Testament Prophets in a Candle-Lighting ceremony. Those taking the part of the Prophets will be: Buddy Wilcox, Ronnie Perdue, Eugene Ferguson, Blaine Carter, Charles Gills, Sandy Burks, Elmer Phelps, Butch Hickman, Buddy Day, Earl Day, Brian Thomas, Bobby Lewis, Wayne Ferguson, Wayne Doss, Pete Ferguson, and Sam Ferguson. Each Prophet will speak his particular place in the long line of Old Testament Prophets and challenge the congregation to a present-day stand for the Work of the Kingdom.

Sunday evening, Dec. 14, at 7:30 o'clock, the Sanctuary Choir, under the direction of Mrs. Claude W. Smith, organist and director, will present "Creeds of the Christmas Carols," with special selections and arrangements of the beautiful carols of all nations and peoples. The minister will narrate the service, and the feature of the evening will be the singing of the "Star of the East" by the choir.

The Pre-Christmas Sunday, Dec. 21, at the evening hour, the Children's Choir, under the direction of Mrs. R. A. Bergdoll, organist, will present "Christ Is Born," and children of the entire Children Division of the Church School will assist in the service. There is much preparation being given to each of the services and the membership and friends of the church are urged to be present for each of these special Yule-tide Services.

Thursday evening — 7:30-7:45 o'clock, the Pastor's Bible Study Discussion on the Life of Christ. These last two studies prior to Christmas will be featured by the showing of filmstrips of scenes in the Life of Our Lord, furnished by the Arab-Christian Committee of the United States.

Visitors are always welcome for any of these services held in our church.

QUESTIONS OF THE WEEK

(Editor's note: Here are the questions asked most frequently by Virginia farmers during the past week, as reported by county agricultural agents. Staff members of the VPI Agricultural Extension Service and/or Experiment Station supply the answers).

Q. What is the outlook for vegetables next year?

A. Generally, the demand for vegetables is expected to continue strong. Prices will depend largely on the amount and quality sold by Virginia growers and their competitors.

Q. What small grain can I seed now to harvest for feed late next spring?

A. It is past the recommended date for fall seedings of small grains. Better wait until February when you can seed winter oats.

Q. What variety of tobacco should I plant on blackshank infested soil?

A. There are several disease-resistant varieties available. A list with this years' suggestions based on latest research will be prepared for distribution next month. County agents will be furnished copies of the list and the information will be released to press and radio.

Q. Will it pay to feed home-grown grains to my livestock?

A. Generally, yes.

Q. Should I consider egg production as a means of increasing my inocme?

A. This depends on your individual farm operation. A flock of 1,000 commercial layers could be expected to return $1,000 or more per year, and the average farmers can take care of about 1,000 hens in one-fourth his time.

Dust can rob you of the light you pay for, warn Extension Service specialists.

They say if you allow dust to collect on lamp bulbs, diffusing bowls, and shades, you can lose as much as 40% of the light. Be as careful about dusting lamps and fixtures as you are about dusting furniture.

Greasy film often collects on bulbs, bowls and flourescent tubes. To clean, turn off the light, remove bowls from the fixture, let cool, and wash like glassware in a detergent water.

Do not put bulbs and flourescent tubes into the water, but clean them with a damp, soapy cloth. Wipe dry, and dry your hands before you replace them.

Dark bulbs lose light and need replacing. Replacement is more economical than using the dark bulbs until they flicker out. Destroy tubes and bulbs when their useful ness is over. They may be a hazard to children.

Dust shades regularly. When dusting no longer helps, try wiping the parchment shade with a damp soapy cloth. Parchment shades often burn from the heat of the bulb, thus absorbing rather than reflecting the light.

Painting the inside of the shade with white shoe polish, or a casein or alkyd-resin paint will help provide more light. Shades are not designed to last forever. Replace them occasionally.

Cloth shades can be washed in soap suds with a soft brush. Remove any glued-on trimming before you wash. You can do a better job if you draw a tub of water and get out all soap by swishing the shades around in the tub. Pat with a towel to dry, and dry as rapidly as possible to prevent the metal from rusting through the cloth. Then reglue the trimming with one of the plastic glues.

The regular meeting of the Appomattox Teachers' Association was held Monday evening at the Carver-Price High School at 4 P. M. The first part of the program was given over to the entertainment committee, under the chairmanship of Mrs. C. D. Beasley. Mrs. Price made a report on the needs of some of the families in the community. The Association voted to render special assistance.

The choir festival held at the Promise Land Baptist Church was a success last Sunday evening. The following choirs took an active part: Galilee, Canaan and Mount Zion, of Red House. The offering which was very good was taken by deacons George Scruggs and Robert Pankey. Miss Mattie Fleahman served as mistress of ceremony. The pastor of the church conducted devotionals.

Plans have been completed for the annual men's day program at the Mount Shiloh Baptist Church, of Spout Spring. The pastor and choir of the Mount Airy Baptist Church will be special guests. A short program will be given by members of the men's club. The program will be on the second Sunday at 3 P. M.

The public is invited to attend the regular preaching services at the Galilee Baptist Church this Sunday at 11:30. Sunday School begins at 10:30.

The East and West Bound Sunday School held an inspiring meeting with the Gravel Hill Sunday School, Hurtsville, last Sunday. All schools were present except two. The executive board made several recommendations which will go into effect during the new year The youth program was very interesting. The president's message was very challenging. The same staff of officers were elected for 1959. The next meeting will be held with the Morning Star Sunday School, of Evergreen.

The Carver - Price Panthers lost their first basketball game of the season last Tuesday evening to the Susie Gibson High School, of Bedford, Va., by two points. The final score was 35 to 33. The next home game will be on December 12.

Neighbors Reap Harvest

Waterloon, Iowa.- Some 30 neighbors gathered on the farm of Mrs. Alfred Hummemiller, bringing with them seven mechanidal cornpickers. They picked and husked more than 5,000 bushels of corn for the widow.

Liberty Chapel

Liberty Chapel, Dec. 2.- Mrs. J. H. Reynolds, Mrs. Carl Martin and Miss Gaynelle Martin spent the week-end in Burlington, N. C. with Mrs. Cearl Sparks.

Mr. and Mrs. Collie Gordan, Paul Thornhill, Miss Faye Thornhill, Mrs. J. V. White and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Thornhill visited W. W. Thornhill Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Reynolds, Miss Becky Reynolds, Clyde Childers and Mrs. Charles Scruggs and Mrs. Lonnie Reynolds attended the wedding of Miss Lenda Scruggs Friday evening. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Scruggs, of Buckingham.

Mrs. Lonnie Reynolds, Debbie and Delores visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Colemon on Sunday afternoon.

NERVOUS GROOM

Rome, Italy.- His wedding service turned out to be such a strain that Guiseppe Magri had to spend his honeymoon in a hospital.

The 26-year-old bridegroom fainted twice during the ceremony, once when he was to say, "I do" and again after he was pronounced married. He was hospitalized for severe nervous exhaustion.

His Girl Enlists, Too

Chicago.- "I just didn't want to be the girl left behind," said Gloria Gosnell when she enlisted in the WAC as her fiancee Leonard Fajfner, joined the Army.

SANTA IN PERSON

Elliott, Iowa.- Children cluster around a small workshop near Main Street in this small town, where one of Santa Claus' workers is busy turing out toys the year around.

O. D. Stone, 87, makes wooden toys for Elliott children without expecting any payment except their smiles.

"Nothing can match the pleasure of seeing children happy," Stone comments. "Just seeing them smile at a new toy is reward enough for me."
